Project Topic

I had two seperate ideas for an undergraduate app for UC Davis. The first is an improved Unitrans app that is exclusively for Unitrans, unlike the current UC Davis app that also has class info, DC info, etc. It would track the busses as well as provide ETA's & allow users to bookmark their favorite stops.
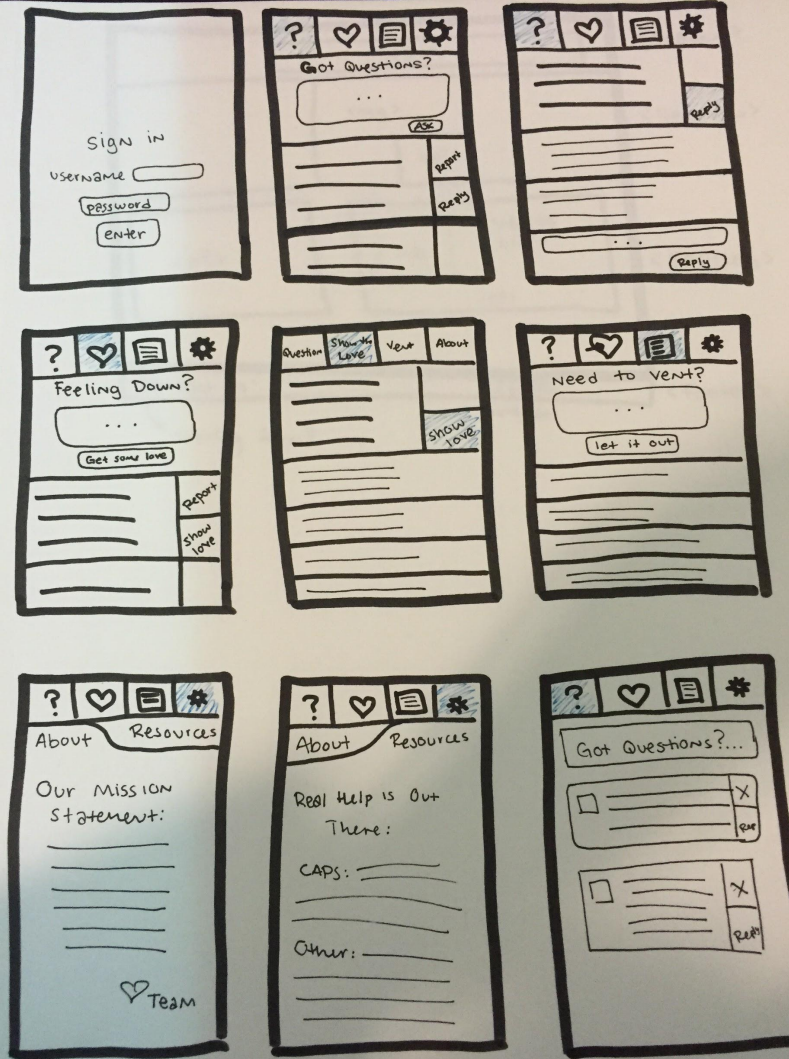

My second idea was to create an app, similar to Yik Yak that students could post on anonymously with their worries/stressors/ have a place to complain. It's ideally a CAPS app where students who are depressed/anxious can get help from other students who have had similar problems

① Unitrans- good idea—you would want to contact them to check interest

② What does it offer that improves yik yak?

Paper Prototypes

- Changed my view of user needs

- Caused me to rethink my organization and how to code it

- Allowed me to realize how to design the interface in an interesting and engaging way

Audience Testing

- Changed my view of user needs in terms of UX and UI

- Gave me new ideas of how to improve and enhance them

- Allowed me to rethink my features and how they are organized
